

*In the beginning,
spoken words are imitated as they flow from lips of loving caregivers.*

Schooling, however, mandates curriculum which makes a huge mistake in the way spelling and reading is taught. Focus is pulled away from mindful listening to create a false attribution. This error is reinforced each time we ask a child to identify a letter-sound or to sound-out a printed word. Phonics – and much less fair, skipping and guessing – require unconscious and unnecessary compensations to stay on track. Some learners simply quit the effort.

How can we maintain CORRECT RELATIONSHIPS between speech sounds and alphabet letters? We can show how the speech sounds within relevant words are spelled-out. WordsAhead’s sounds-based protocol is a foolproof alternative to “see-say” instruction. Identify unfamiliar vocabulary. Provide the explicit, systematic protocol going from sounds-to-letters.

This booklet provides practice for a radically different foundational literacy.

When and how do I begin?

Easier sooner, harder later. WA-HSSR requires direct teaching of four crucial data sets. Introduce these early and entirely. A comprehensive perspective is pivotal without putting any pressure on the learner for mastery. A confident perspective comes from knowing how to access whatever is needed. Make data sets ubiquitous. The goal of your early teaching should be familiarity, not a demand for memory. Understanding takes as long as it takes. Recall always depends on an individual's capacity, focus and motivation.

Chant and sing these sets. Remain devoted to provide equal opportunity and never redact any information. Daily, spend time here until all sets become friendly.

Data Set #1: SOUND UNITS (39 total)

Teach that [brackets] signal pronunciation of a MAP unit. Both within the organizational structure of the MAP and within spoken vocabulary, exaggerate vowel articulations. However, consonant pronunciations do not include a vowel; don't say [C17]+[V04] b-uhh. Provide variety with high- and low-pitched voicings.

Data Set #2: SOUND NAMES (39 total)

Teach number-names as shown on your MAP: V01, V02... C16, C17... C22+28... etc. Ambiguous phonics jargon is now obsolete: "Long-Aa" "Bb-Sound" "Hard-Cc" etc.

Data Set #3: ALPHABET LETTERS (52 total)

Teach the relative sizes and shapes of both upper- and lower-case letters Aa–Zz. Use whatever tools are available: apps, building blocks, QWERTY keyboard, sandpaper cutouts, wooden puzzles, worksheets, refrigerator magnets, etc. A variety of fonts and sizings are beneficial. Guide crafting hand-written letters using your favorite schemes.

Data Set #4: LETTER NAMES (26 total)

Teach letter names, both alphabetically and in random order.

WA-HSSR MAPs

Fearless, foolproof teaching tools!!

- BLANK [V01] through [C39] – each has its own space
- SOUND NAMES V01, V02, V03 through C36, C37, C38, C39
- MASCOTS Students can use their favorite pictures
- SAMPLE WORDS With relevant {.Sound+Spellings.}

Each version of WordsAhead MAP delivers a durable, competitive platform on which to base your direct teaching of relevant words-to-be-read.

Mindfully heard and said words may be mindfully spelled and read.

Each sound-unit functions either as a VOWEL or as a CONSONANT. Each of your hot-air articulations has a place on the MAP, making them tangible, identifiable and relatable.

Left side of MAP houses VOWELS. Each has equal standing.

Right side of MAP houses CONSONANTS. Notice that vertical columns align with lip and tongue placements. Voiceless+voiced pairs require identical articulation.

Sample word –	cat
Articulated units –	[C22] [V01] [C18]
{.Sound+Spellings.} –	{.C22/c.}{.V01/a.}{.C18/t.}

Blended consonants require individual identifications on the MAP.

Example: {.C16+37/pl.}, point to C16 and C37

{.C16+37/pl.} please	{.C16+38/pr.} praise

EXTRA PRACTICE

Foundational literacy benefits from phonemic awareness activities.
Listen! Listen! Listen!

- (a) Count words in sentences
- (b) Count chunks in words – one vowel per syllable
- (c) Count units in syllables
- (d) Point on the MAP to vowel units heard in the word
- (e) Point on the MAP to every unit heard in the word

Maintain mindful focus on what is heard – sound by sound.
Observe your workload is the same for one long word as it is for a short sentence.

cVc • cV • cV • cV • Vc

Example of Long Word:

PANDEMONIUM

{.V04/u.}{.C33/m.}
pan • de • mo • ni • um pandemonium PANDEMONIUM

Example of Short Sentence:

Can you see the owl?

cV [C39] [V09] = {.C39/y.}{.V09/ou.} you YOU cV [C28] [V10] = {.C28/s.}{.V10/ee.} see SEE cV [C27] [V04] = {.C27/th.}{.V04/e.} the THE
